

Evaluation Questionnaire: Improving the NECE Newsletter

Three times a year, the Newsletter presents and introduces players, stakeholders, organisations and projects involved in citizenship education in Europe. It provides insights into current professional debates, reports on important events, and offers information on interesting activities and publications. It therefore acts as a support measure in seeking to achieve the aims of the various NECE activities, which include:

- providing transparency about stakeholders and approaches in citizenship education;
- inspiring transnational discussions on the topics and challenges faced by the field
- bringing together academics and practitioners in citizenship education with policymakers at the European level;
- stimulating knowledge transfer and information exchange on good practices;
- encouraging European co-operation and projects;
- raising awareness of the impact of citizenship education at the European level.

We are currently trying to conduct an evaluation on the impact of the Newsletter in order to tailor it more closely to our readers' expectations and demands. You could help us significantly in these efforts by taking a moment to answer the following questions:

1. Do you read the NECE Newsletter regularly?

- Yes No

2. Do you use the NECE Newsletter in the course of your work?
